

FLOW PROJECT UNITY:

Typhoon Haiyan/Yolanda Relief Efforts

The Filipino Lawyers of Washington (FLOW), in association with the Filipino Community of Seattle (FCS), seeks your support in donating to the victims of Typhoon Haiyan/Yolanda.

The two charities that FLOW has chosen to support are: (1) World Vision, <http://www.worldvision.org>, and (2) Americares, <http://www.americares.org>. FLOW selected these two charities after researching and reviewing various charities, in response to the public's concern of unfortunate corruption of some charitable organizations where donations aren't being used to directly, efficiently, and effectively help the victims of Typhoon Haiyan/Yolanda. Please consider this when making individual donations to charities other than those listed.

There are also a number of fundraising activities the FCS is either hosting or supporting. Please visit <http://fcseattle.org> for more information.

Please pray for the Philippines, and please consider taking action to assist the relief efforts. There is no effort that is insignificant.

Maraming salamat po! / Thank you very much!

How You Can Help:

The various donation locations listed below have opened their doors as a drop off point for donations of supplies and goods to be sent to the Philippines. Examples of non-perishables you can donate: (1) non-perishable, easy to open, ready to eat food items, including unopened baby food; (2) hygiene items, such as toothbrushes, toothpaste, and soaps; (3) plastic sheeting for shelter; and (4) medical supplies, first aid kits, and unopened, unexpired, over-the-counter medicines and vitamins.

Group Donations:

Please encourage your law firm, office, law school, or bar association to make a group donation, whether to one of the charities listed or to the collection of supplies and goods to be sent to the Philippines.

Arrange for your group to set up a donation box at your location. Collect donations from your group until December 6th. Once your box is full, please email FLOW President, Rommel de las Alas, at executives@filipinolawyers.org, and FLOW will arrange for the collection of your group donation.

Please also inquire with your law firm, office, law school, or bar association whether they are willing to do a match program for individual donations made to the charities listed above.
